Miss Rosalie Fore Weds Lt. Glass

The marriage of Miss Rosalie Ann Fore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edwin Fore, of Pamplin, Virginia, to Lt. George Jean Glass, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter Glass, of Atlantic Beach, Florida, took place Saturday, November 2, at 4 P. M. in the Olive Branch Methodist Church, Prospect.

Rev. Phillip W. Thomas performed the double-ring ceremony in a setting of palms, white gidiola, chrysanthemums and cathedral candles. Mrs. Robert Harris, of Pamplin, played the traditional wedding music. Mr. Herbert Goodman sang "Because" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of lace and net with tight fitting bodice and a full tiered skirt ending in a circular train. Her finger tip veil fell from a coronet of sequins and pearls, and she carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia Rogers, of Hopewell, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Walker Young, of Farmville, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard E. Fore, Jr., of Farmville, and Miss Dorothy Richardson, of Pamplin. All the attendants wore full skirted dresses of net and ribbon in shades of rose, pink and aqua. They carried matching nosegays and wore wreaths of flowers as headdress.

Mr. Glass, was his son's best man. Groomsmen included Mr. Richard E. Fore, Jr., brother of the bride, of Farmville; Mr. John T. Rogers, of Front Royal, Mr. Frank Coleman, of Prospect, and Dr. Edward Woolridge, of Norfolk.

Mrs. Anderson Coleman was mistress of ceremonies.

The mother of the bride and the bridegroom's mother wore teal blue dresses with corsages of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at Longwood House. Farmville.

As her going-away outfit, the bride wore a brown tweed suit with brown and biege accessories, and the orchid from her corsage.

After a short wedding trip, Lt. and Mrs. Glass will make their home in Dover, Delaware, where he is stationed with the Air Force.

NEW BOOK IN THE COUNTY LIBRARY

When the Bough Breaks
By Otis Carney.

Bud Floyd was a newcomer to this world. His father, a shrewd, harsh, self-made man, had been the product of another era, another way of life. Breaking away at last, Bud joined the ranks of junior executives and established his own pattern of family and business security. Haunted by the fear that he will stagnate, ignored in the corporate morass, Bud becomes more and more immersed in his work. His wife, Debbie, embittered by her stereotyped suburban routine, grows openly resentful as Bud slips further and further away from her. Then, unexpectedly, Alex Deering, Bud's former roommate at college, who was once in love with Debbie, arrives for a week-end visit. As Bud sees the old attraction between Alex and Debbie rekindled, he must face the fact that his personal world is on the verge of disaster.

FARM MACHINERY CLASS TO OPEN

Mr. H. B. Pack, vocational agriculture instructor of the Appomattox High School, announced that the local Farm Machinery Repair Class will open on Tuesday, Nov. 19. The instructors for the class will be Mr. R. N. Ashworth and Mr. Vern Torrence. Classes will be held in the local vocational agriculture shop every Tuesday, Thursday nights from 6:30 to 10:00 o'clock. Dues for joining the class will be same as in previous years.

The Farm Machinery Repair Class is a shop class to help farmers, to learn more about the use, care, adjustment and repair of the machinery and equipment. It also gives these farmers interested an opportunity to learn skills in the use of shop tools and equipment. It is open to all interested farmers. The class will not be held on Thanksgiving night.

Postmaster Asks Early Mailing

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, even exceeding the 118,000 pieces of mail and 1,200 pieces of parcel post handled here in 1956, Postmaster Richard Wingfield announced the 1957 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign today.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the Postmaster reminds us, "It's later than you think," Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought.

The Postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully—include the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said, also, that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy ,corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive for use in securely packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your package, just add the appropriate first class mail postage to cover the package itself; this will insure simultaneous arrival of your card and greeting.

Keep in mind that only postcards carrying four cents postage or six cent air mail postage may include a personal message. Any more than a signature is subject on cards, mailed at the regular third class rate; and be sure the return address is on every Christmas card envelope—spelled correct, and helps both you and friends, to keep your mailing list up to date.

It's important to plan your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts for out-of-town points are mailed first, and get all of your out-of-town cards and gifts into the post office by December 10, and those for local points should be mailed by December 15.

Commissioner Retires

General James A. Johnson will retire December 31 as commissioner of highway commissioner, and will be succeeded by Frazon B. Gravely, who has been deputy commissioner and chief engineer since 1951.

General Johnson's retirement, and Davis' promotion as highway commissioner were announced today by Thomas B. Stanley.

The promotion, of Davis, who has been in several temporary administrative capacities in the Highway Department, will become effective December 31. Johnson will go to D. B. Beary Foundation and design engineering consultant, will become location and design engineer.

It did not fall in the direction expected, but fell instead toward the group of youngsters, A branch struck young Ramsey on the head.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary urges its members and all persons of the community to attend the celebration of American Education Week in the schools of the county. They point out that it is the responsibility of every citizen and not just the teachers to see that there is a strong school system.

"Our Responsibility For Better Schools"
by Vinay Wilder

Do I help elect the schpol board,
In the district where I live?
When new teachers are among us,
Do I have time to give?
That it takes to get acquainted
To be friendly and sincere;
Am I interested in children,
And their projects through the year?
When enough of us can answer,
All three questions honestly,
And come up with perfect scoring,
Then responsibility
Shall be working untold wonders,
And the schools we criticize
Shall improve with each semester
To become the schools we prize.
